The Merit Badge Plan

The merit badge plan is based on the concept that a boy works with an adult knowledgeable in one or more fields, an experience invaluable to a Boy Scout. The counselor introduces the Boy Scout to subjects that may lead to a career choice or to a lifetime hobby.

Earning merit badges gives a Scout the kind of self-confidence that comes from overcoming obstacles to achieve a goal. Through the merit badge program, a Scout also learns career skills, develops socially, and may develop physical skills and hobbies that give a lifetime of healthful recreation.

Scouts must be tested individually, and they must meet all the requirements. No additional requirements may be added.

A merit badge cannot be taken away once it has been earned, provided the counselor is a registered counselor for the merit badge. Therefore it is important that Scouts are directed only to counselors approved for their specific merit badge subject.

Merit Badge Procedure

From his Scoutmaster, the Scout obtains a signed merit badge application and the name of the appropriate merit badge counselor. The Scout sets up his first appointment with the counselor. The counselor should explain in the requirements to the Scout. The Scout and his buddy then meet as appropriate with the counselor until the Scout complete the badge's requirements.

Scout Buddy System

A Scout must have a buddy with him at each meeting with a merit badge counselor; a Scout's buddy can be another Scout, a parent or guardian, a brother or sister, or a relative or friend.

Group Instruction of Merit Badges

The question arises as to whether it is permissible to have Scouts earn merit badges in groups. Many subjects may be presented to groups of Scouts without defeating one of the purposes of the merit badge plan - working closely with a qualified adult.

The National Executive Board has approved this policy statement on merit badge counseling:

“To the fullest extent possible, the merit badge counseling relationship is a counselor-Scout arrangement in which the boy is not only judged on his performance of the requirements, but receives maximum benefit from the knowledge, skill, and expert personal interest of his counselor. Group instruction and orientation are encouraged where special facilities and expert personnel make this most practical, or when Scouts are dependent on only a few counselors for assistance. However, this group experience should be followed by attention to each individual candidate's projects and his ability to fulfill all requirements.” GROUP INSTRUCTION MUST BE FOLLOWED BY INDIVIDUAL TESTING.

In harmony with this policy, a troop or team may use merit badge counselors in unit meetings. The merit badge counselor can make a presentation covering the highlights of a merit badge subject. Scouts should then be given an opportunity to try some skill related to the badge. This introduction to a merit badge can spark an interest in the subject.

The Merit Badge Counselor Approval Process

Persons wishing to serve as merit badge counselors must be at least 18 years of age and registered with the Boy Scouts of America as a Merit Badge Counselor.

Anyone wishing to become a merit badge counselor must submit both an Adult Application and Merit Badge Counselor Information (form 33405) to the council service center.

There is no fee for an individual whose only BSA registered position is Merit Badge Counselor.
